

Says

Thinks

" I want a dream home that reflects my personality and style."

" will i find a place that matches my vision and budget?"

Inventing heavily in a dream house can expore you to financial risk if the housing market fluctuates

high-end homes may have substantial property tax assessments

Anxious about the home buying process but excited about the possibilities.

: Researches home listings visits open houses, and seeks advice from friends

Unique or highly customized features may not appeal to future buyers

Large homes can have a significant environmental footprint .

Does

Feels